

The Psychology of Money — Action Workbook

Morgan Housel • Convert ideas into actions

Instructions: Write specific answers. Choose fewer actions and actually execute them. Review after 7 and 30 days.

1. My Definition of Enough

What lifestyle and financial level would genuinely be enough for me?

2. Wealth vs Lifestyle

Which expenses look like wealth but do not increase future freedom?

3. Compounding Plan

What long-term investment/saving behavior can I repeat without needing perfect timing?

Monthly amount: ■ _____ Horizon: _____ years

Rule I will follow: _____

4. Margin of Safety

- Emergency cash buffer.
- Avoid unnecessary high-cost debt.
- Room in monthly budget.
- Avoid decisions that could cause permanent ruin.

The Psychology of Money — Action Workbook (Execution)

Turn the concepts into a repeatable personal system.

5. Behavior Audit

What money behavior is driven by comparison, fear or status?

What replacement behavior will I use? _____

6. Time Dividend

What would greater financial freedom allow me to do with my time?

7. 30-Day Action

Choose three concrete actions.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

30-Day Review

What did I actually change? What result did I see? What will I keep, stop or change?

