

THE 7 HABITS OF HIGHLY EFFECTIVE PEOPLE

DEVELOPING EFFECTIVENESS FROM INSIDE-OUT

By Stephen R. Covey

FROM INSIDE-OUT

True personal change starts from within. Each of the 7 habits builds on the preceding one. Used together, the effects are amplified and create a continual upward spiral of growth.

RENEWAL

7. Sharpen the Saw HABIT OF SELF-RENEWAL

Continually sharpen the saw in 4 dimensions :
Physical, Spiritual, Mental and Social/ Emotional.
Growth in any one dimension has ripple effects in other dimensions and the 7 habits.

Habits 4-6 form trusting relationships and healthy emotional bank accounts.

INTERDEPENDENCE

4. Think win-win

HABIT OF INTERPERSONAL
RELATIONSHIP

Aim to achieve mutual benefit, backed by character, relationships, agreements, systems and processes.

5. First Understand, Then be Understood

HABIT OF COMMUNICATION

Listen emphatically, with both logic and feeling, and with the intent to understand.

6. Synergize

HABIT OF CREATIVE
CO-OPERATION

Where the whole > sum of its parts. Synergize to create new and better options / alternatives.

Habits 1-3 develop your character and self-mastery, so you become a principle-centered person with a firm, unchanging core.

INDEPENDENCE

1. Be Proactive

HABIT OF CREATION

You're the creator. Take full responsibility for your life & actions. Focus on areas you can influence.

2. Begin with the End in Mind

HABIT OF PERSONAL LEADERSHIP

Creation starts in the mind. Have a clear vision of your destination, goals and what you stand for. Develop a Personal Mission Statement and find your centre or core.

3. Put 1st Things 1st

PERSONAL MANAGEMENT

Focus on the important activities, not just the urgent ones. Plan weekly, act daily and give time to your priorities.

DEPENDENCE